Advisory Board approves Baez Non-violence school amendments

Voting on each request separately, the Upper Valley Advisory Board Recommended approval of the amendments to the use permit for the Institute for the Study of Non-Violence on Friday.

By a 4 to 2 vote a motion to recommend live-in permission for four adults and no more than four children was passed. The request for weekend operations from 1 to 6 p.m. was passed by a vote of 5 to 1, and the amendment to allow outdoor classes was recommended by a unanimous vote.

The matter comes before the County Planning Commission at 3:45 this afternoon (Wednesday).

Although Joan Baez, founder of the Institute, was back in California from her European trip she was not in the Valley on Friday. She had been here briefly but is returning to New York until later next month, according to her secretary, Holly Chenery. Ira Sandperl was still in Europe at the time of the Advisory Board hearing. Miss Chenery said that the Institute plans to begin summer classes on June 15.

In starting discussion of the amendments requested by the school, chairman Morden Buck explained that the Upper Valley Advisory Board has no legal power but is purely a local advisor to the County Planning Commission. He requested that the discussion be limited to the amendments and not get into a rehash of the philosophy or desirability of the school. He stated that the board wanted to be fair, a point which was reiterated from the audience by Andres Larson, who further stated that the felt the conditions were a duress.

Heisler Speaks

Attorney Francis Heisler representing the Institute requested that staff members and their families be allowed to live on the premises with no more than two visitors on weekends. The amendment to condition five asked that classes be allowed on Saturdays and Sundays from 1 to 6 p.m. and request permission to hold classes out of doors occasionally. He added that the imposition of the latter conditions "interfered with the religious and philosophical beliefs of these people."

In discussion Dr. and Mrs. Gerry Petkus who live across from the institute property reported that they had annoyance at "all hours of the night" and carloads of college-age young people came around 11 o'clock at night."

They said there had been numerous instances of harassment and they would invite anyone to come and see how much of the school property was visible to their home. Mrs. Petkus stated that the school has held the use permit for quite a while and not used it as it was OKed... "they have violated the weekend use at least six times," she added.

Miss Chenery replied that this was after they had stated they were not a school and now that the county counsel has advised that they are considered a school they are following the prescribed procedure to amend the use permit.

Unfair Conditions

The majority of the members of the advisory board felt that the conditions imposed on the school were unsound or unfair. Chairman Buck said it is a case of saying you can have a school but you can't operate. He added he didn't see how you could tell people they "can't be outdoors."

In concluding her opinions, Nancy Strathmeyer stated that the Petkus family was aware of adjacent zonings when they purchased their property.

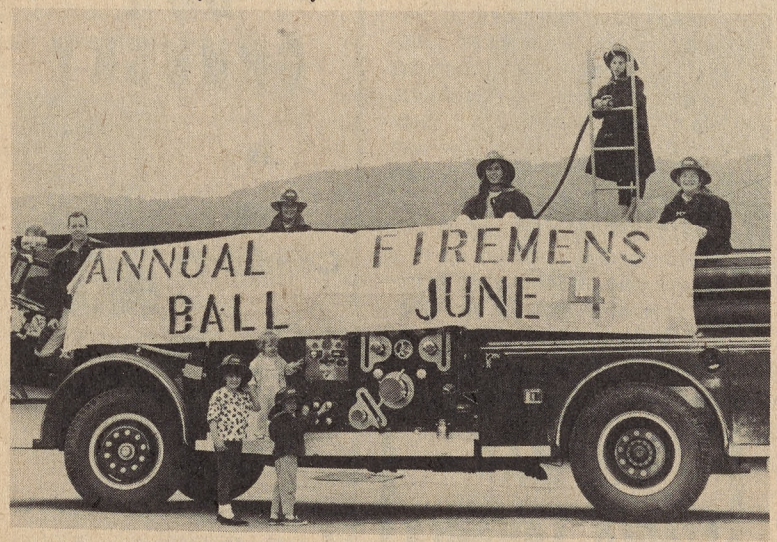

She said, "The Institute should be given a chance for us to see what they do. Is it unreasonable for them to use the fresh air under an oak tree in Carmel Valley? Is it unreasonable for adults to study on weekends?"

Rev. Don Johnson said he felt there is a moral responsibility to provide them a chance.

Board member Skip Marquard stated that although he felt the restrictions were put on in good faith, he agreed that they were not all reasonable.

In discussion with other spectators the fact was brought out that other private schools are allowed faculty families to live on the premises. Board member Corene Smith said she felt the important fact regarding the number was whether the facilities were adequate.

In other business, the board agreed to recommend approval for a ballet school use permit in the Joe Ricupero building which was requested by Mme. Olga Ziceva.

JOHN WOODS (LEFT) chairman of the annual Firemen's Ball welcomes young ladies and their mothers aboard his iretruck to help hold the sign which blew down last week. The dance will be held at Rancho del Monte Country Club, with dancing from 9 to 2 a.m. The children are Stacie Weber, and Reagan and Leah Scherman. Up top are Myrna Weber, Arlene Carter, Linda Scherman and June Woods, all wives of Valley firemen.

Haber resort zoning passes

A unanimous vote of the Board of Supervisors to approve the rezoning changes for Green Meadows, Inc. came after a two hour discussion yesterday. The change allows the motel and filling station on ten acres at the entrance to CV Golf and and Country Club.

Opposition came from property owners groups. Both PlanCom and the Board ruled that the use was not a violation of the Master Plan as the opposition contended.

Ed Haber, developer, presented 748 mailed-in approvals and six disapprovals from within a half mile radius of the hotel site.

Revised budget goes to CUSD Board tonight

Highlight of the CUSD School Board meeting tonight is slated to be the presentation of the revised budgets as prepared by superintendent Medill Bair at the request of the board.

Meeting at 7:30 in Brey Hall of the high school, the board is expected to dispense quickly with the first things on the agenda and get on to the meat of the matter. Number four is scheduled as approval of final drawings for Carmel School Library, number five, proposal for appointment of an ad hoc committee, and number six is the matter of high school discipline. These items were carried over from two weeks ago.

Proposed changes in the elementary attendance areas is set for discussion next and the textbook adoption for the 1966-67 school year. Numbers nine and ten on the agenda are contract awards for supplies and budget transfers.

Under the revised proposed budget, the adult school and community service budgets will be presented in addition to the total operating budget.

Most cuts in the budget which the board has suggested have been given to Bair with the request that he revise the allotted moneys. At the last meeting after discussion of plans for reducing the high school schedule, the board moved to have Bair submit a budget which fell within the limits, pretty much giving him reign to cut where he felt it was best in order to make up the remaining deficit.

Three finalists chosen for Carmel Valley queen

Three finalists were chosen in the contest for Carmel Valley queen to ride in the Salinas Rodeo parade. Patty Brinsmead, daughter of Major and Mrs. Henry Brinsmead, Ann Warmington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Warmington, and Juanita Partridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Partridge, were chosen by the judging committee on Sunday. Judges had a difficult time choosing from the field of eight contestants but finally narrowed it to the three, one of whom will be Queen. The other two will be her attendants and join the winner on the float. The attendants and queen will be dressed in gowns made especially for the occasion.

Judged for the contest were Bob Barnes, Gene Baker, Jack Swanson, Les Jewett and Clark Swan. Gus Arrida was unable to attend. They said that each girl received votes, making it very hard to eliminate any.

After the judging, all of the contestants were treated to luncheon at Rancho del Monte as guests of the Village Committee. Mrs. A.O. Bennett and Mrs. Les Jewett acted as hostesses for the girls.

Voting tickets and boxes have been distributed to members of the Village Committee which is sponsoring the queen. Each time a purchase is made from a

CV Firemen plan annual dance June 4

The annual Firemen's Ball sponsored by the CV Volunteer Fire Department will be held on June 4. The dance will be at Rancho del Monte Country Club, as last year, and dancing will continue from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music will be provided by a five piece band, Dean Speake from Salinas.

This yearly fund raising event is for the benefit of the department. The fire trucks are paid for by taxes rom the district, but the meeting place for the volunteers and payment for special services, instruction or extra equipment must come from other funds.

Although tickets for the firemen's Dance are only one dollar per person, any additional donation would certainly be appreciated by these fellow neighbors who give so freely of their time for the whole community.

Letter to the Editor

Board chairman states views

Editor:

This is an explanation of position.

I opposed the granting of the Baez use pemit. I felt and still feel that the use for the location is absolutely wrong—and was granted for wrong reasons.

Since, however, the supervisors ruled that this school was indeed a correct use, then restrictions imposed should not have been of a nature which would preclude effective functioning of the TYPE school which the supervisors knew was projected.

Specifically, to prohibit weekend classes was to eliminate the very student group toward which the operation is primarily directed. To prohibit outdoor classes was to eliminate an important natural advantage of the spot location and the general location. To prohibit residents to exceed two in number was not in my opinion a severe penalty, but to increase that number to four plus dependent children is, I think reasonable.

So my vote to eliminate and modify conditions was based on my conviction that proper governmental procedure is sacrificed, in the event a use is granted and then, in fact, denied by the imposition of unreasonable restrictions.

Very truly yours,
Morden R. Buck, chairman,
Upper valley Advisory Committee

OVER THREE HUNDRED PEOPLE attended the annual Community Center "Festival of the Grape" last Sunday at Rancho del Monte. Sunny skies brightened the day for everyone as the overflow crowd finished every drop of wine, nibble of cheese and chunk of bread. Proceeds benefit the Community Center and Pool. In addition, all residents are invited to become members of the Community Center for the yearly cost of two dollars.

Officers installed for CV Catholic Sodality

May 15 was the date of the annual reception of new members and installation of officers of the Sodality of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church. Names of the members received were: Mmes. Bobbie Sheppard, Jack Longfellow, Andy Nottenkamper, Theodore Swientek, Frank De Amaral, Jr., Don Wester, and Albert Emsley, and Miss Mary Ann Paulin. Those who were unable to be installed Sunday, will be installed at a future date.

Pastor James C. Voytko, Director of the Sodality, expressed gratitude to all the members for their service and devotion.

Mrs. Louis Allaire surrendered her long-held position as Special Projects Officer in charge of the very successful rummage Sale-A-Rama, to take the office of Prefect. Vice-Prefect is Mrs. Michael Antoncich. Secretary; Mrs. Alexander Collins. Treasurer, Mrs. Peter De Haas. Special Projects Officer, Mrs. George Groves. Visitor, Mrs. John Klein. Sacristan, Miss Billie Mans. Assistant Sacristan, Mrs. William Brashears. and Marshalls, Mrs. Dee McFadden and Mrs. Bobbie Sheppard.

Following the ceremony, relatives and friends of new and old members were invited to the patio of the parish house for sandwiches, cookies, cake, and punch or coffee provided by Mrs. Byron Platter and her committee, Mrs. William Brashears, Mrs. Doris Anderson, and Mrs. Jean Quarteroni. Outgoing Prefect, Mrs. Tom Waters, was thanked by the group's chaplain, Fr. Juan Oronoz, for the fine job she did so faithfully the past year, and was presented with a religious medal. The members of the Sodality also wished to show her their appreciation by giving her a copy of the diary of the late Pope John.

Regular monthly meetings will not be resumed until the first Tuesday in August. Members will be notified by Mrs. Don Wester and her phone committee.

Father of Mrs. Harold Quentel dies

Word has been received of the death of Mr. C.M. Brownlee of Salinas, father of Mrs. Harold Quentel of Carmel Valley. Mr. Brownlee, who was 92 years old, passed away Sunday morning at his home.

He is survived by his wife, Grace, his daughter, Mrs. Quentel and other children not residing locally.

Precinct No. 2, Mrs. Richard Frazer; precinct No. 3, Curtis A. Pringle; precinct No. 4, Mrs. Joyce Nelson; precinct No. 5, Mr. Luis F. Wolter II; precinct No. 6, Mrs. Frederick O, Capen; precinct No. 7, Mrs. William Frisbie; Tularcitos princinct, Mrs. Robert Wilson.

YMCA Indian Guide Tribes being started

Lou Allaire, George Jennings and Bill Isaacs are working locally with the newly formed YMCA to establish Y-Indian Guide tribes in Carmel Valley.

YMCA as it is being developed on the Monterey Peninsula is a new concept in decentralization. Instead of the standardized image of a big building housing hotel rooms and recreational facilities, emphasis is on serving the entire area with a program of outdoor activities.

The Y-Indian Guide tribes are for first, second and third grade boys and their fathers. Gra-Y clubs are for fifth and sixth graders and the Junior Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y Clubs are for junior and senior high school. One of the first big outings which the group sponsored was a caravan over Easter vacation to Death Valley for 50 boys and leaders.

A summer program for at least 200 boys in day camp, resident camp and caravans to the High Sierras is planned.

The Monterey Peninsula YMCA was organized in Spring of last year and started its fund drive last summer. Douglas Sprague became the general secretary and a small office was opened in February of this year. Les Dixon is chairman of the board and Dr. George Thorngate Sr. is in charge of the membership drive.

Anyone interested in contributing to YMCA or desiring more information may call the Valley representatives.

By REX PRYER

MAY 20 — Deputy on patrol found a wallet with $57 cash in it at Carmel High School. It was returned to its Pebble Beach owner.

MAY 17—Carmel Valley Cooperative Nursery School reported that a number of wheels had been taken from toys in the play yard of the school.

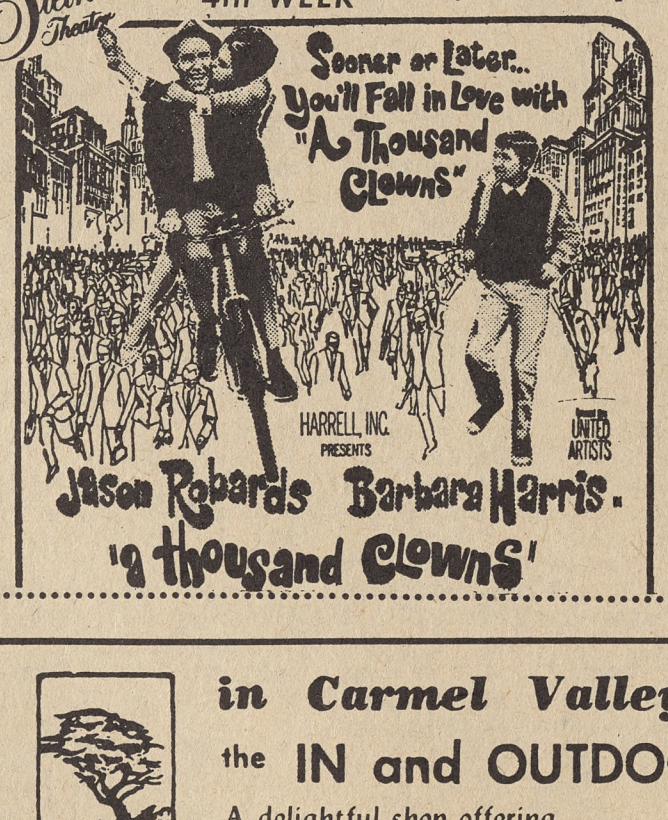

MAY 16—Carmel High School reported that five windows had been broken in five different buildings over the weekend. There was evidence that some of the buildings had been entered but nothing appeared to have been stolen.

MAY 15—The guard at Hacienda Carmel reported spotting a young man attempting to steal two fire extinguishers. When caught he dropped them and got away. The person was wearing an old dark orange jacket.

MAY 13—Sheriff's deputy saw a blue pickup backed up to a gravel pile in the county service area at Highway 1 and Carmel Valley Road. Owner was shoveling county gravel into his truck which was about half full. Deputies arrested him and he called to have a relative pick up his two young teenage sons who were with him.

Carmel Valley Garden Show winners announced

Guests numbering 250 visited the annual flower show sponsored by the Carmel Valley Garden Association on May 14. In addition to the exhibits at the school at least 60 visitors toured the four gardens which were open for viewing during the afternoon.

Almost all of the 65 exhibitors, including 10 children, were Valley residents. There were 308 separate entries and of these 173 received awards of first, second, third and special.

Receipts from the cutting booth and the wishing well totaled nearly $125 which covered nearly all of the expenses of the show.

Enjoyment was heightened by the excellent background music provided at the school exhibit by garden club member Leo J. Stuckens.

A REALTOR and a BROKER

ARE THE SAME THING, AREN'T THEY!

Well, almost. Funk and Wagnall Standard Family Dictionary defines a broker as, "One who buys and sells for another on commission or who arranges for the negotiation of various types; especially a stockbroker." A Realtor is defined as "A realty broker who is affiliated in membership with the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which has for one of its objects, the protection of the public against dishonest practices, as of brokers; a protected trade name." Their policies are therefore basically the same; To assist you in buying and selling real estate, honestly, swiftly and efficiently.

Wouldn't it be helpful if you could buy or sell property through one Realtor, and yet have the benefit of the services, or listings, of many others? The Carmel Board of Realtors thinks so too, and that is why, nine years ago, its Multiple Listing Service was established. Only Realtors are entitled to participate in the Listing Service. Sellers like to expose their property to the prospects of, and employ the efforts of all Realtors and their salesmen. Buyers enjoy the convenience of the "One Stop" look at the market, knowing that the properties they are shown are professionally inspected and listed.

During the last four months, the Carmel Board of Realtors, through its Multiple Listing Service, sold $1,057,000.00 worth of your property — and many millions of dollars worth since it was established.

Swim lesson registration starts June 1

Summer swimming lessons for residents of the Carmel Unified School District are scheduled to begin on June 20. Two four week sessions will be offered at both the high school and Carmel Valley pools.

Classes will be held daily, except Saturdays and Sundays for beginners, advanced beginners, and intermediate swimmers. These will be at 9, 9:45, 10:30 and 11:15 p.m. There will be one advanced swimmers class each day at 11:15.

Registration for lessons at the Valley pool will take place at the pool on Ford Road Wednesday, June 1, Thursday, June 2, and Friday, June 3, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Registration for lessons at Carmel High School will take place in Room 18 of Sunset Center, at San Carlos and 10th streets, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on those same days.

Mail and telephone registrations for both pools will be accepted, starting on Monday, June 6. The Recreation Department phone is 624-3342.

A nominal fee will probably be charged for the lessons which are available to youngsters in the Carmel Unified School District. This will be determined by CUSD board action. No bus service will be provided by the district.

This summer, there will be two sessions instead of three as in the past, however they will be four weeks in length instead of three. All beginning swimmers must have completed the first grade to be eligible.

Louise Child finds a winning combination in her CV Music and Office Supply Store

Take it from someone who knows, Carmel Valley youngsters are nice kids—generally thoughtful and well-behaved.

The kind words for the local younger generation came from Louise Child, who runs the Carmel Valley Music Shop and Office Supply store in the Village Center.

Boys and girls find an understanding and appreciative greeting from her when they drop around after school.

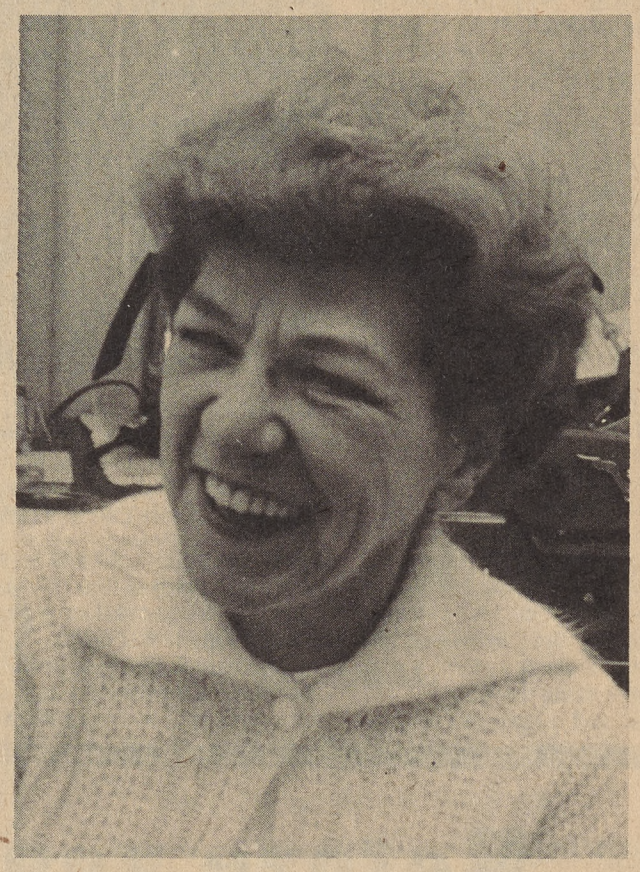

The youngsters enjoy playing the latest records in the shop and occasionally strum on guitars also for sale there. "They ask my permission first," Mrs. Child said. "They are the nicest kids, and we've never had any trouble with any of them."

This is her first venture into operating a store, and the response of both young and old customers has been a pleasure.

While the youngsters have helped educate Mrs. Child into the mysteries of modern music, she was a veteran in the other speciality of the store—office supplies and secretarial work. She has been busy with secretarial services, including typing, mimeographing and Xeroxing, for clubs, writers, students and professional people.

Before moving to Carmel Valley, she did such work in the intelligence systems department of HRB Electronics Company, a subsidary of the Singer Company of sewing machine fame, in State College, Pa.

Before that, she worked in the acquisition department of Harvard Law School in Cambridge, Mass. One of her interesting duties there was to arrange for giving away old, surplus law books, which involved correspondence with universities in every part of the world.

Louise Child

She also fondly remembers Dr. Roscoe Pond, the famed former head of Harvard Law College, who into his 90's was at his office at 8 every morning and still mentally brilliant.

Mrs. Child served as secretary to the executive secretary of the Army-Navy YMCA in Boston through World War II.

She has fond memories of her childhood in the 23-room family home in Dorchester, just outside Boston, where her father was superintendent of a large candy factory.

The Child's include her daughter, Linda, who is a freshman at Carmel High School, which she is enthusiastic about.

Also popular at the store are two friendly dogs. Wendy looks just like the RCA Victor dog who listens to the old phonograph, which of course is appropriate for a music store. And there's Honey, a four-month old toy poodle, whose cuddly charm is a real added attraction to the store.

Hang on to Your Hat!

By ELSIE WALTERS

FLOWERS

There are many uses of millinery flowers when applied to hats, as we shall find in this particular chapter. Flowers are a dressy trim. They are as popular with furs as they are with your summer wardrobe!

WREATHS

An extended arrangement of flowers usually long enough to reach around the crown of a hat (Illustration 26, Diagram A).

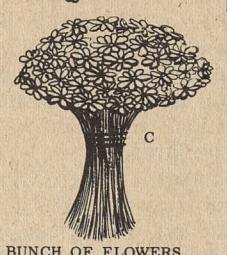

SPRAY WREATH

A spray wreath is an arrangement of flowers, leaves of different sizes having a broader grouping in the center and the arrangement tapering out equally on each side of the group (Illustration 26, Diagram B).

E

Alternate tie tacks to prevent trimmings from rolling.

BUNCH OF FLOWERS

A bunch of flowers is an arrangement of individual flowers and stems of the same length (Illustration 27, Diagram C).

SPRAY

An arrangement of assorted flowers and leaves forming a bouquet or spray, some flowers longer at the top (Illustration 27, Diagram D).

'Princess & Swineherd' presented by Tantamount Jr. Drama Class

It's that time of year when proud Valley families gather to see their offspring display their talents in class recitals. This past Tuesday, the class in reading, voice, and acting under the direction of John Ralph Geddis and Francois Martin, in association with Angene Feves, were seen in an informal presentation.

Among those performing in scenes from Shakespeare's 'Macbeth'—witches all—were Lori Smith, Christi Cordrey, Susan Senger, Sienna Howland, Leslie Drew, Kathy Willson, Eve Cuny, Sue Pitcher, and Robin Nielson. Sound effects by Tim Cordrey.

Tim Crodrey was old Rip Van Winkle in a monologue scene depicting Rip's awakening after his 20 year sleep.

A short play "Princess and The Swineherd" followed. The cast: King, Eve Cuny; Princess Christi Cordrey; Swineherd, Robin Nielson; Messenger, Sue Pitcher; Ladies in Waiting, Leslie Drew, Kathy Willson, Susan Senger, Lori Smith, and Sienna Howland.

All the company performed "The Walrus and the Carpenter" from "Through the Looking-Glass." The program ended with improvised pantomines. Audrey F. Cordrey was costume mistress. Janene Sclawy was class monitor.

Practical experience offered to future educators in pilot teaching program

A number of girls who are considering teaching as a career have been participating in a pilot teaching program with Nancy Bottero, teacher at Palo Colorado School.

The offer was made to the girls at Carmel High School by Counselor Darleen Canwell and Mrs. Bottero. Fourteen in the 11th and 12th grades completed the project, doing lesson plans, observing classroom and students and giving a demonstration lesson.

Colleen Coggin, Margie Decker, Paula Besel, Kay McCombs, Andrea Torres, Terry Read, Susette Smith, Susan Rich, Sheila Bobbs, Pamela Martin, Marilyn Kodani, Ann Mewhirter, Sandi Updike and Nancy Tucker were the young ladies who worked with Mrs. Canwell and Mrs. Bottero. Each was free to work in whatever field interested her the most. For the demonstration day, each brought her own materials for exhibition and work. The lesson on China was highlighted with authentic objects from that country and a lesson on Italy was accented with scrapbooks kept by the student teacher when she was in that country.

Pam Martin, working with the students in poetry, gave them a demonstration on many forms and definitions and then tested them on comprehension. Words like "simile" and "alliteration" which were not familiar to the Palo Colorado youngsters (first through sixth grade) were understood and discussed at the end of lesson time.

This is the second year that the high school and Palo Colorado, which is a non-graded school, have cooperated in this and they hope it is the beginning of a pilot teaching program for both boys and girls interested in education as a career. It has been found that youngsters in the flexible ungraded system react extremely well to these demonstrations most of which are really geared at high school level.

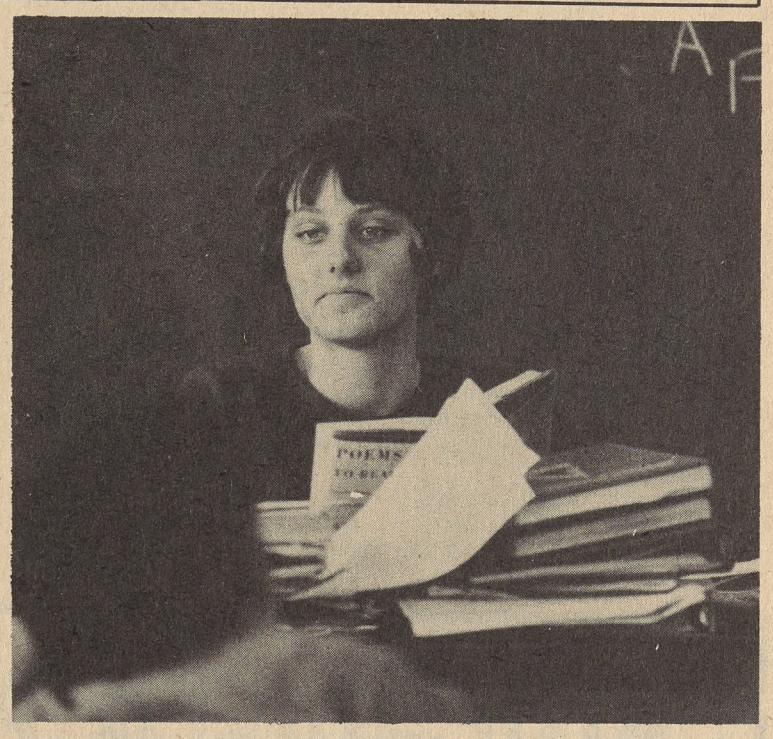

Nancy Bottaro said another exciting facet of the work this year is that several girls have gone way beyond the requirement for participation and have been assisting at the school two or three times a week on their own time.

Terry Read and Andrea Torres have both been working with the youngsters in gymnastics, driving down the coast after classes.

Three other girls who were a part of the student teaching program have volunteered to help as teachers assistants for the Bishop Kip Summer School which will be under the direction of Nancy Bottaro. Ann Mewhirter, from Carmel Valley, and Pam Martin and Suzette Smith, both of Carmel, will work correcting papers, observing, and assisting with the physical fitness program during the six weeks session which begins on June 20.

ANN MEWHIRTER, Carmel High School student, worked with youngsters at Palo Colorado school in a demonstration of poetry. Ann was one of fourteen girls, interested in teaching as a career, who took part in a student teaching program this spring.

Entries close Saturday for golf

Entries for the 55th California Amateur Championship to be played at Pebble Beach Golf Links and the Cypress Point Club June 20th through June 26th, and the Handicap Tournament scheduled for Monterey Peninsula Country Club and Del Monte Golf Courses at the same time, close Saturday, June 4.

The field is filling fast for the Championship which is limited to the first 350 received at Tournament Headquarters, Pebble Beach, California.

Verne E. Callison of Sacramento will be on hand to defend his title. Other scratch handicap players who have already signed up include F.C. Bradley, Pacific Palisades; James Rheim, Jr., Stanford and Guy Bill, Oakland.

Stillwater Yacht Club costume party Sunday

Stillwater Yacht Club committee members, Mrs. Allman J. Cook, Mrs. Mark Raggett, and Mrs. George Yates, are planning a Shipwreck Party to be held at the Beach Club on Sunday, May 29.

The costume affair to which both Beach Club and Stillwater Yacht Club members and their guests are invited, will get underway at 7 o'clock with hors d'oeuvres and cocktails followed by a buffet supper. Mike Marotta's orchestra will play for dancing, and entertainment will include the songstress Ruth Crews and a group of Hawaiian dancers.

College program aids Peninsula economy

Many jobs available for MPC vocational graduates

Of 250 Monterey Peninsula College electronics students and graduates who went on to employment in the field, 56.5 per cent were employed within the boundaries of the college district, according to a report by Stephen A. James, MPC coordinator of technical-vocational education. Detailed records have been kept by the electronics department and a special study was made by department chairman Gary Eldridge in 1964. Both Mr. James and Eldridge are Valley residents.

"When you consider that the Peninsula is not generally thought of as an area in which highly skilled technical employment in electronics would be readily available, the result of our studies is a surprise," James said.

Local firms which have employed MPC electronics students include Carmel Radio TV Shop, Carmel; Del Monte Aviation Inc., Monterey; Tri-City TV, Seaside (out of business now); Bayard Radio, Carmel; United Motors, Monterey; Meagher Electronics Co., Monterey; Warner's Radio and Television, Pacific Grove; Grafton's Radio Television, Pacific Grove; Lloyd Day Radio and Television, Monterey; Tensor Corp., Monterey; Monterey Police Department; Monterey Research Laboratory, Monterey; Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Monterey; Alarm Corp. (MPTV), Carmel; Pacific Telephone Co., U.S. Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey; Stanford Research Institute, Fort Ord; Schad Electronic Supply, Inc., Seaside; Zackit Stores Monterey; Motorola Radio and Television Service; International Business Machines, Monterey; Versatron, Monterey; Midco Department Store, Seaside; Archway TV and Appliance, Seaside; U.S. Army, Fort Ord.

Job titles included television sales service, instrument technician, TV and radio technician, troubleshooting technician, engineer, lineman.

Employed in the greater Monterey Bay Area (Salinas, Soledad, Watsonville, Santa Cruz and Hollister) were 8.9 per cent. Total percentage of those employed in California is 85.7. Only 14.3 per cent were employed outside California.

Recruiting teams from off-Peninsula firms have visited MPC, making job offers to all graduating students in the program. Current offers are running up to $6,500 plus fringe benefits to start. Companies who have visited or are arranging to visit for recruitment include Sandia, Philco, University of California Radiation Laboratory, Hewlett Packard, Pacific Telephone & Telegraph, IBM Service Engineering, IBM San Jose Plant, Sylvania and Fairchild Semi-conductor.

Professional services available to the client

BY Belva Sanford, F.A.I.D.

Decorating clients often wonder where to turn for the best advice and the best selections in purchasing. First they should understand the various types of services offered; then select the ones best suited to their needs.

If you wish to do your own coordinating, and shop in various places, then in turn go to a trained carpet man, a drapery and furniture salesman and reliable retailers, making your purchases as you do when buying clothes. But buying items for your home involves larger investments than clothes and most people are unable to visualize the finished effect, when creating a room decor. The individual quality and design of each piece is secondary to the importance of the "togetherness" of the entire room, and this problem usually needs the guidance of a professional. One error in color, scale, texture, or balance is not only a disappointment, but expensive.

A trained, experienced interior designer, or decorator, will work around your own particular tastes, individuality or personality, and the needs of your family, besides considering the special needs of your room, and the pieces you wish to keep. He will also work within your budget and is trained to use any style or mood you wish. He knows the market and the thousands of items available and will narrow the selections for you, to avoid confusion and expensive errors.

Beware of paying a "untrained, inexperienced person, with a flair for decorating and personal good taste," unless you wish to duplicate his particular style. In California, many people are under the impression that a person with a state re-sale license is a trained professional interior designer. This is only a promise to the state that one has a business, and will pay the state sales tax. In no way is it a guide to one's training, experience or ability.

To be a successful, professional qualified interior designer or decorator not only requires an innate skill, unique talents, a flair and appreciation of all the arts, but years of training in theory and technical studies as well as years of practical experience, in order to create a room suited to you. As it costs you no more, why not avail yourself of this type of service?

The American Institute of Interior Designers, or A.I.D., says "The Interior Designer or Decorator is a person qualified, by training and experience, to plan and supervise the design and execution of interiors and their furnishings, and to organize the various arts and crafts essential to their completion."

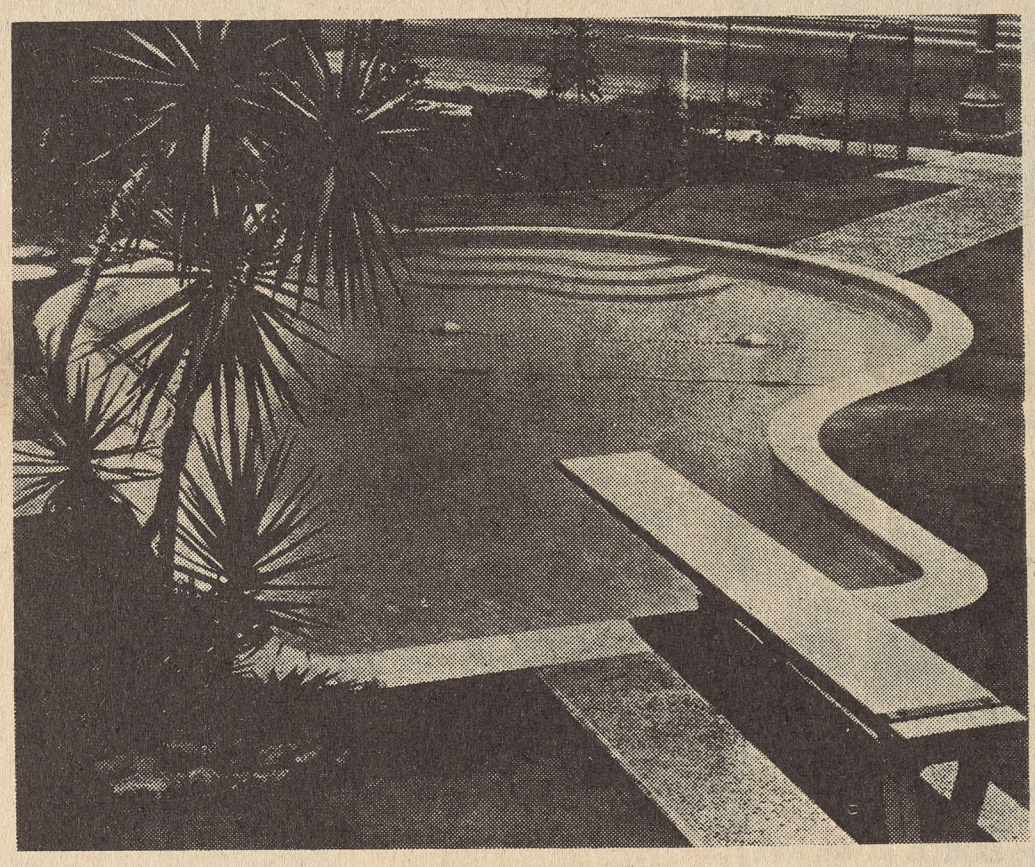

Youngsters reprimanded for setting grass fire in Village area

Children responsible for setting a fire in the gulch beside the Ravine Apartments on Sage Road were given a reprimand when brought to the Fire station by their parents. The burn was controlled in an area 60 x 100 feet by four pieces of equipment and 22 members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Departemtn. The alarm was received at 6:15 p.m., May 10.

The alarm sounded in the fire station and in each of the volunteer firemen's homes at 10:10 p.m. May 11 due to a short on the Pacific telephone lines. Trouble crews were called to repair the short which had caused the false alarm.

The first aid crew of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department was called to the Nedeff home on Via Contenta to transport Mrs. Jayne Cartwright, a medical emergency, to the Community Hospital. The call was received at 6:25 p.m. May 15.

Busy schedule ahead for 'Sing Out' group

The enthusiastic cast of "Sing-Out Monterey" presented the spirited song "Up With People" at a preview performance on Friday. (Outlook Staff photo)

"Sing-Out Monterey," the Moral Re-Armament musical produced by students of the Monterey Peninsula, has its official premiere performance at Sunset Auditorium on Saturday night. However, they appeared several times prior to their Saturday presentation during the week and impressed audiences with their verve, spirit, and spontaneity.

A number of Valleyites are in the cast. Cathy Bingham, who attended the MRA gathering at Mackinac Island, Michigan last summer, is a member of the local Sing-Out group. Sue Otter, daughter of the John Otters of Schulte Road, is one of the top soloists and her brother John works as a sound technician for the group. Barbara Bruce is the choreography director. Phil Fleming, a student at Robert Louis Stevenson School, Suzanne Laurens, who lives in MidValley, Beth McCabe and Arianne and Barrie Bowman are other Valleyites who are participating.

Sue Otter said on Friday that former Valley resident, Daphne Myers, who is at Purdue University, hopes to join the group this summer when she is back on the Peninsula.

During the Elk's convention in Monterey the young people gave a performance which brought forth standing ovations and invitations to perform for a number of Elk's groups throughout California.

Friday they gave a short show at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gallatin Powers for the five Russian ladies who were visiting the Peninsula. Their freshness, good voices and enthusiasm brought words of thanks from the women who obviously enjoyed the experience.

Sing-Out Monterey has been invited to participate in "Action Now," the MRA Conference to be held June 4 to July 2 at Estes Park, Colorado.

John Gosling invited to conduct and record in Europe

John Gosling, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society, will leave tomorrow for a two month's tour of Europe.

Mr. Gosling has been invited to conduct and make recordings in Norway, before joining Maestro Josef Krips, San Francisco Symphony conductor, at the Vienna Festival in Vienna, Austria. While there he will visit and lecture at the Vienna Conservatory.

In Paris, Mr. Gosling will work with Prof. Albert Sea, world-renowned authority on Renaissance music, in preparation for the Festival of Renaissance Music to be held on the Monterey Peninsula in November of this year.

Mr. Gosling hopes to bring back music of that period which has not been heard in this country. Also, during his stay in Paris, he will visit with the family of pianist Robert Casadesus.

Other highlights of the trip will be a visit with the conductor of the Concertgebouw Orchestra, Bernard Haitink, in Amsterdam; and John Browning at the Spoleto Festival.

Mr. Gosling's trip is sponsored by the Monterey County Symphony Association. Donations from members made the commission possible, and the Association feels that future Symphony concert audiences will be the beneficiaries of the conductor's exciting and educational travels.

JOHN GOSLING
...Symphony conductor

Previous tours have been taken by Mr. Gosling to Canada and England. In 1962 he was one of five American conductors chosen to represent the United States in the International Conductors competition in England where he appeared with the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Orchestra.

Mr. Gosling will return to the Monterey Peninsula in August to begin preparation for the 1966-67 season of the Symphony Orchestra and the Choral Society.

Brendan Behan play at MPC Little Theatre

"The Hostage," by Brendan Behan will be presented at Monterey Peninsula College in the Little Theatre, from Wednesday May 25 through Saturday, May 28, at 8:30.

Several members of the MPC cast are also in the current production "Hay Fever," at Carmel's Studio Theatre which has necessitated understudies appearing this weekend for that show.

Outlook Leisure Times

Social luncheon marks Women's Club installation of officers

Carmel Valley Women's Club will conclude its current season with a luncheon at Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club on Wednesday, June 1. The final party will begin at 12 noon, according to Miss Billie Mans, who is in charge of the arrangements for the year end event.

After the installation of new officers, the president, Mrs. Mark Fields will turn the gavel over to new president, Mrs. Larry Cummings.

Other officers for next year are Mrs. Robert Angell, vice president, Mrs. H. L. Deal, treasurer, Mrs. Harry Galloway, recording secretary and Mrs. Frank DeAmaral, corresponding secretary.

The board of directors for the 1966-67 season of the Women's Club will be Mmes. Gordon Brown, W.H. Stokes, Daniel Hoisington, Adolph Friedenthal, and Richard McKenzie.

Carmel Valley News is heard every Wednesday morning at 10:32 over Radio Station KIDD. News Director Rob Mahr reports in cooperation with the Carmel Valley Outlook.

'TASSAJARA ENCOUNTER' - A RICH SUMMER PROGRAM WITH

There is an old Indian legend about the formation of the warm waters at Tassajara Hot Springs. There was once a powerful Indian chief who was so endowed with supernatural powers that he could hear the grass grow. He had a young sister, dear to his heart who became ill and nothing within his many powers was able to cure. He started to take her to the ocean, but as he reached Tassajara Creek she had failed so that she could travel no further. Offering himself as a sacrifice to the Sun God, the chief prayed...the sky became drak and he was turned to stone. As this occurred hot tears poured forth from the rock, covering the stricken girl. She arose, completely cured. News of the miracle spread and Tassajara Hot Springs became the mecca for the soothing of ills.

Whether fact or fancy, we do know that Tassajara has been a health spa for about 100 years, with its old stone buildings having been constructed about 1879.

This summer, however, a new identity is being added at the Springs, which are reached by the Chews Ridge Road into the Los Padres National Forest.

Bob and Anna Beck, who have owned Tassajara for seven years, have inaugurated a 10 week summer crafts workshop fashioned in the manner of Haystack Mountain School of Crafts in Maine. Termed "Tassajara Encounter," the unusual approach stresses using the natural surroundings for materials and the construction of equipment and tools, in addition to inspiration.

The workshops are limited to fifteen persons and the inn will continue to serve its regular vacationers, although the number of accomodations will be somewhat limited.

Two weeks of ceramics and kiln building under Joe Soldate will start the series in from June 20 to July 1. This will include construction of a wood burning kiln and basic primitive ceramic techniques.

At the same time, Cliff Robinson, one of the few masters of the art of batik, will guide students through the history and application of this wax-resist, cold water dye, technique.

Hal Painter will instruct in weaving, including primitive loom construction during the same time. He plans working with native grasses, ferns, and will provide yarns, if students wish.

A photography workshop under the auspices of San Francisco Art Institute will bring together a wealth of talent. Ansel Adams, Morley Baer, Wynn Bullock, Brett Weston and Blair Stapp will work two days each with students of both advanced and beginning experience. No formal classes are invisioned in any of the groups.

In July, Stan Bitters will exploit clay sculpture using native materials and hand mixing. There will be no glazing but emphasis on richness of surface design.

At the same time Jean Ray Laury, a stitchery designer who has exhibited at the De Young Museum will draw on the natural beauty of Tassajara for design inspiration and work with a variety of materials.

Trevor Long, a Royal Scholar of the Royal College of Art in London, will work with beginning and advanced students in mosaic and glass sculpture and stress architectural and decorative stain glass techniques.

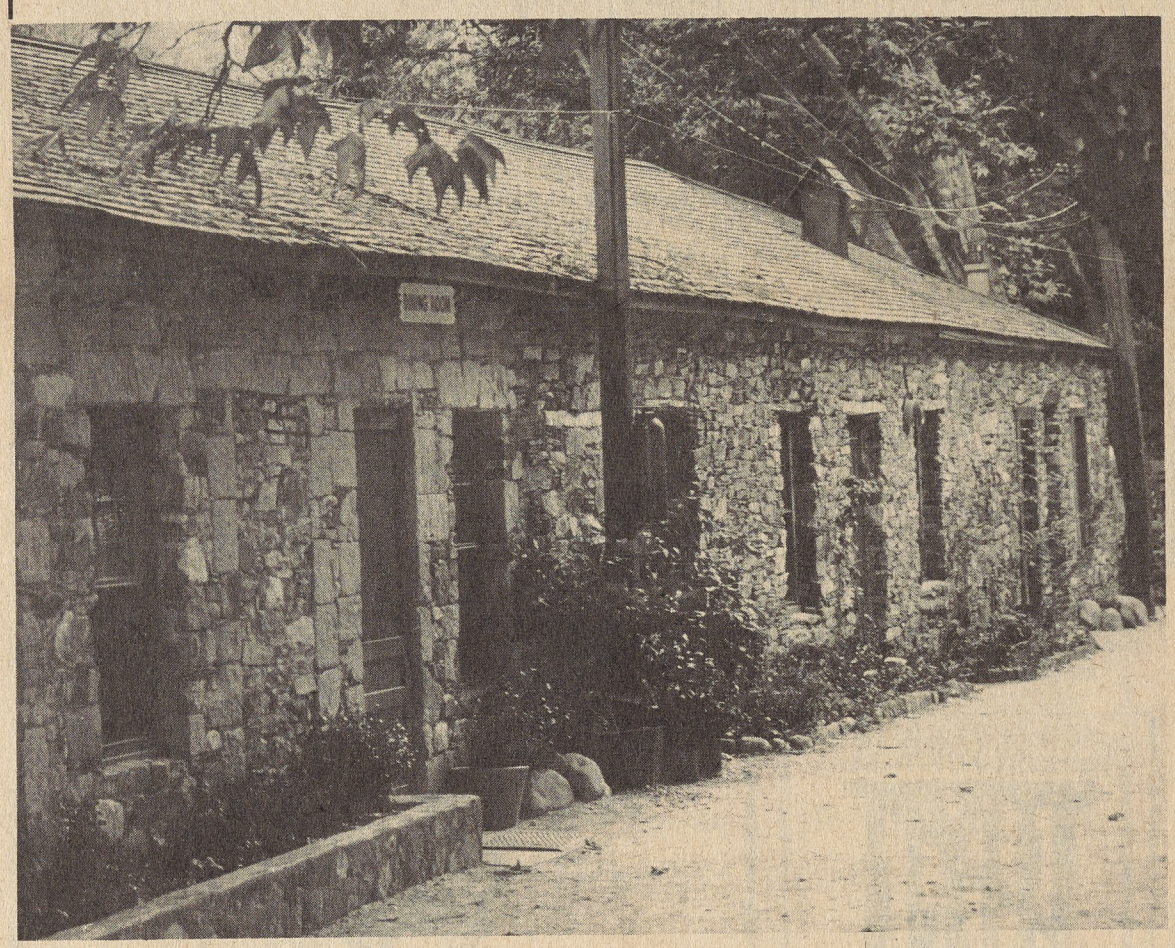

Hal Riegger, well known in California for his primitive pottery techniques, will take his students on "potrips," where they will dig, design and fire on the spot. Riegger has taught at the Haystack Mountain School.

The jewelry workshop in lost wax casting will be directed by Bob Winston of Arizona who will use native stones in addition to metals.

Winding up the summer will be a Perception Workshop for Families designed to heighten family unity through the use of group creativity. This will be developed by Gloria Churchman and Kenny Leek, both of whom have had exciting results in working with family groups.

The natural primitive quality of Tassajara has long been known as a solace for mind and body. This year it will offer creative stimulation but still within the bounds of its quiet natural isolation.

ABOVE LEFT – Accomodations at Tassajara Hot Springs are in rustic stone and wooden buildings which fit into the wilderness surroundings. Streams run close by with access to some cottages over wooden bridges. During the winter months the Springs is completely isolated and owners Bob and Anna Beck live in town, where he teaches fifth grade at Bayview School.

ABOVE—A feature of all the craft workshops will be field trips for materials, inspiration and work. Three major trails come into Tassajara from Church Creek, Arroya Seco and Big Sur.

FAR LEFT—The original old stone buildings were built about 1879 although the resort had been functioning for over ten years before that.

MIDDLE LEFT—The rustic atmosphere of the main lounge will provide the background for evening discussions between the various related crafts in the summer workshop.

LEFT—No formal classrooms will be maintained. The deck overlooking Tassajara Creek is planned as a work area in weaving, and much of the instruction will take place out-of-doors.

Memorial Day is more than a time to pay tribute to our honored dead. It is a time of rededication. . . to our country, our ideals, our hopes for a future assured of peace. The men who died for our country upheld these ideals . . . it is up to us to draw full meaning from their sacrifices, so they will not have died in vain.

under the oaks & among the cacti

By Mildred Hattan

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt have sold their home on River Road and moved to the Monarch Pines Mobile Homes in Pacific Grove. When Peggy called to say that they were leaving, she mentioned that so many of their wonderful Valley friends had entertained them with farewell finners that it was a temptation not to change their minds and remain in the Valley! However, they will retain memberships in numerous clubs which will give friends a chance to visit. On Sunday their grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Sterling, arrived from Sunnyvale to help with moving.

Their home has been purchased by Mary Ann Paullin who is a sixth grade instructor at the Santa Catalina School for Girls in Monterey and Evenly Smith, also a teacher, at the All Saints Episcopal Day School in the Lower Valley.

The Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild's Benefit Bridge and Canasta party was held last week in the Fellowship Hall of the church. There were four tables of bridge and two of canasta. Mrs. Thomas McKiernon won first prize for bridge and second was awarded to Mrs. Ingof Kiland Jr. Mrs. Richard McKenzie took the prize for canasta. Co-hostesses Mrs. Irving Ollason and Mrs. W.C. Gilmore had placed a varigated carnation corsage at each ladies' place. The attractive decorating scheme followed the reds and pinks taken from the Australian tea rose center piece arranged in a silver bowl.

Pride that Mac had been offered a fine position, touched such sadness that grandchildren, Lis and Scott, would be so many miles away, set the theme for the farewell party given last weekend by Mrs. Frank Graham for Mr. and Mrs. Malcom Graham of San Carlos, who will soon be calling Chicago "home."

Mac has accepted a job with Beckett Aviation Corporation who lease jet planes to large business associations. Noted for their impressive record of safety, the Beckett concern has planes and crews on twenty four hour call so that executives may consumate business deals anyplace in the world. Mac will set up a branch office in Cincinatti. Bidding Tala and Mac goodbye were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Blacow, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Wade, Mrs. Grace Maher, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Trout, Mr. and Mrs. Don Brill and Mr. and Mrs. Al Weber.

Mothers of the Cooperative Nursery School met Tuesday evening at Fellowship Hall for an informative film on mouth to mouth rescusitation and valuable first aid demonstrations concerning small children by guest speaker Dr. Margaret Barnes of the American Red Cross in Monterey.

A warm Valley welcome to new neighbors in "the Berry House" on Lower Circle, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sweet and 15 month old daughter, Sandra. Don who received his training in Hollister has recently transferred from the Monterey branch of the Bank of America to become the new operations officer at the Carmel Valley branch. Don is a native New Yorker and Mrs. Sweet is a member of an old Monterey family, the Russos.

Receiving congratulations on the birth of a second son are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Winslow of Ridgeway and Country Club Drive. Paul Wallace (the Wallace is in honor of his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Winslow of Cleveland, Ohio) arrived May 10 at the Community Hospital. The baby brother joined an excited three year old Kerry. The entire Valley family is looking forward to the arrival in two weeks of Mrs. Winslow's mother, Mrs. John Wybrants who is coming for a visit from her home in Hove, Sussex, England.

Sally Bennett, daughter of Mrs. Arthur O. Bennett of Laurel Drive invited classmates to a swimming party at Rancho del Monte Resort to celebrate her recent tenth birthday. Sally's sister, Vickie, assisted at poolside and with the hamburger feast following. The dainty birthday cake decorated with blue and white flowers, topped with an old fashioned girl holding a nosegay was a three dimensional example of Betty Leslie's skill in confectionary art. Enjoying the afternoon were Holley Wilson, Noel Campbell, Kathy Platter, Diana Young, Linda Wilson, Susie Senger, Holley Kenyon and Sherrie Swiess.

Mark Joseph is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Pepple for their recently adopted baby boy. Janet and Pep proudly announced his arrival on April 2. the former Valleyites are now making their home at 1226 San Marcos in Salinas.

Edna Van Aker, a field representative for the Zonta Club from Miami, Florida has been on the Peninsula for several weeks organizing a Monterey Peninsula Chapter of the Zonta Club. Valleyites who will be installed as charter members at an installation dinner June 25 will be: Mmes. Marta Fulgham, Betty Oenning, Terry Todd, Grahame Harrison, Joanne Sears, Lori Sweiss, and Mildred Hattan.

Two sisters, whose birthday celebrations had been postponed several months ago because of illness, celebrated last Saturday on River Road with a strawberry short cake party. Cindy Ocampo, who was nine, and her sister, Kathy, who was ten, invited a group of friends for an afternoon of refreshments and party games. Linda Wilson assisted Cindy with the preparation and serving of the delicious dessert. Others attending were Susan Kaminski, Linda Tedrow, Holley Kinyon, Sherrie Swiess, Holly Beckstrom, and Betty Zarazua.

Mrs. John Woods was hostess to the members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Deaprtment who met Thursday evening at the Woods' home on Lower Circle. The calendar for the coming year set up by the new slate of officers, was discussed including plans for a family barbecue in July and a luncheon and fashion show in September. Mrs. William Conlan won the door prize.

Mrs. George Corrigan and Mrs. M.L. Stoney took first place awards at the Duplicate Bridge Tournament held Tuesday night at the Carmel Valley Community Center for members of the Valley Bridge Club. Second place winners were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Antoncich and third place was won by Mrs. Ed Leslie and Mrs. Irene Baldwin.

Not the least bit superstitious was Gail Gayman who celebrated her 13th birthday on Friday the Thirteenth with a slumber party at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Hall. Since the senior Halls were attending the Lions convention at Hoberg, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hall Jr.

Carmel High students win scholarships

John Morrice and Bob Tarbox of Carmel High School were among fifteen high school and college students who were winners this week of Monterey Peninsula College's 1966-67 scholarships in instrumental music. MPC students David Schetter and Holly Garcia of Carmel were also among the winners.

In announcing the awards, Dr. Harvey Marshall, MPC music department chairman, said, "The level of performance ability evidenced in the auditions was higher this time than in previous years. Therefore it was very difficult for the board of judges—Miss Angie Machado, John Erickson and Henry Smith as well as myself—to make the selections."

The winners each will receive $400 in 10 monthly payments during the 1966-67 year of attendance at MPC. John is studying violin and Bob is a student of the piano. Holly is also a piano student and David, a second time winner, is studying clarinet and saxophone.

Large enrollment expected at Vacation Bible School

Mrs. Don Johnson will lead the Vacation Bible School which will be held in Carmel Valley Community Chapel education building from June 20 to July 1. Hours will be from 9:30 to 11:45, Monday through Friday.

A study of life as it was in Bible times will be geared to each age group. The lessons are planned as both educational and inspirational.

Mrs. Johnson will conduct the opening worship services which will include a song, an exciting continued missionary story and a film strip. Following this, there will be instruction in crafts. Refreshments will be served midmorning on each day.

Preschool children (aged four and over) will be taught by Mrs. Milton Klikovac assisted by Mrs. Jerry Katzman and Jane Mewhirter. Kindergarten will be taught by Christine Borregaard.

First grade teacher will be Mrs. Roy Kaminske and Pat Pitcher. Second grade will be taught by Mrs. Paul Naton and Stephanie Frisbie. Third grade instruction will be given by Mrs. Arlow Pitcher and Cynthia Mauzey with Mrs. Walter Mauzey teaching the fourth grade. The combined fifth and sixth grades will be taught by Mrs. Frank Bresk. The combined seventh and eighth grades will have three instructors, Mrs. Glen Low and Dr. and Mrs. James Short.

Mrs. Stella Miller will be in charge of the refreshments of cookies and fruit juices. These will be supplied by mothers who are not serving as teachers.

Every child who is now four years old or who has completed any grade through eighth is eligible to join the two week Bible School. Registration may be made by calling Mrs. Raymond Danielson (659-2479) as soon as possible, or by filling out a form at the church.

No charge is made for the school, but offerings will be taken up daily which will offset the cost of the craft pack, the pupil's book, teaching materials, worship supplies and the missionary project.

A large enrollment is anticipated and prompt registration is urged.

Watch out! Three animals treated for rattlesnake bite

Every spring we warn Valley residents to be on the lookout for rattlesnakes as they start coming down off the hillsides.

This year, Dr. Gerry Petkus, Valley veterinarian, has already had three animals in to be treated for snake bite. He said that this is as many as he usually has during the entire summer.

Two dogs were bitten recently, one in La Rancheria and the other in Hidden Hills Subdivision on Los Laureles grade.

Right here on the floor of the Valley, a horse was bitten by a rattlesnake on Panetta Road.

Parents should warn their children of the presence of the snakes, even in residential areas. With the approaching close of school, youngsters will be going on hikes and picnics and should be aware of the danger.

Bloodmobile at Firehouse tomorrow

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Carmel Valley Firehouse tomorrow (Thursday) from 3 to 6:30 p.m. Valley residents are urged to donate blood at this time. Since much of this drawing will be fractionated into plasma, persons who were formerly unable to donate because of medical histories of hepatitis and malaria, will be eligible.

The Defense Department needs 80,000 units of plasma by July 1 because of the increased need in Viet Nam.

The Rhyming Philosopher

This is now that silly season
Which for some reputed reason
They call summer—it's the time to just relax.
Like go camping by the sea shore
Which is nice, but you can be sure
That the picture doesn't fit in with the facts.

You can dream, like dreams are made for,
But there's things that must be paid for,
And you'd better fix the roof before the rain.
So there's little time for wishing
You could pack up and go fishing;
Maybe next year this is something you'll attain.

Now the bathroom needs re-doing
though you'd rather go canoeing,
Someone has to paint the fence around the lot.
And the chimney must be reamed out,
White the cesspool must be cleaned out,
So you look around to find what help you've got.

For the lawn still keeps on growing
And the weeds require some hoeing,
And who will take your place as mortgagee?
Who will buy the meat and parsley?
It's a good thing that you asked me—
Take a look into the mirror and you'll see.

Attending were Linda Scholink, Sue Wright, Janet Miller, Terry Graham, Julie Bennett, Kelly Garner, Dorothy Collins and Bonnie Hendrix.

"An old oak leaf cluster" to the members of the Pacific Grove Marine Rescue Unit (better known as McAnaney's Navy) who spent a day and a half cleaning sediment and stains from the bottom of the Community Swimming Pool. The men dove at two hour intervals to help prepare the pool for the 1966 season. And speaking of the pool, Bob Jones mentioned that general weekend handy men would be most welcome to help with the completion of the bathhouse. Anyone with the barest knowledge or skill in carpentry, plumbing, painting or cement work would be most welcome. There is also a certain amount of general cleaning up which needs to be done, as well as vacuuming the pool. Anyone willing to donate labor should arrive at the pool early Saturday or phone Bob at 659-2889 for further details.

During the thirteen months spent in Vietnam, First Lt. Robert D. Staples couldn't have visualized a warmer welcome home than the one awaiting him by his family and many Valley friends. Cherrie was on hand at Travis Air Force Base when his plane landed. From there they spent four fun filled days in Las Vegas where they saw such personalities as Connie Francis, Fats Domino, George Shearing, Marthy Raye, Tommy Sands, Wayne Newton, and the show, "Hello Dolly" starring Betty Grable.

Returning to the Valley, the Staples family found that they had qualified for Naval housing at La Mesa Village. A flurry of packing followed to make commuting to the Naval Postgraduate School easier for Bob from La Mesa than it would have been from Lower Circle. Bob who was a communicator with the U.S. Marine Corps in Vietnam has enrolled for a two year course in Electronics Engineering which will complete his Masters degree.

Former Valley resident Mrs. Margaret Carver has announced the June 25th wedding ceremony planned at the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel which will unite her daughter Cynthia Virginia Carver and Jack Poland. Cindy who graduated from Carmel High School is currently enrolled at Hartnell College. Her fiance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Poland of Seaside, is attending Monterey Peninsula College. Mrs. Carver and Cindy, who recently sold their home at 381 W. Carmel Valley Road to the Paul Nielson family, are living in Toro Park.

Mrs. Thomas McKiernon who has for many years organized the Carmel Valley Blood Bank would like to extend a grateful "thank you" to the members of her telephone staff who helped to fill the appointment sheets for donors. Workers included: Mmes. George Eastman, Leo Berta, Helen Thomsen, John Woods, Clyde Lucas, Mark Hattan, Stephen Schaffer, Arthur Dresser, Gilbert Sweet Jr., C.E. Dickenson, James W. Sands, William Conlan, Thomas Henderson, A.L. Friedenthal, Art Harber, G.H. Katzman, Don Corona, Gilbert H. Sweet Sr., Kirk Gayman, and Howard Vail.

First Aid course for beginners starts June 2

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Deaprtment is sponsoring an American Red Cross Beginner's First Aid Course for women only, beginning June 2 at 8 p.m. at the Fire Station. Those attending the first session will decide how rapidly they wish to complete the 12 hour course which will qualify them for a Standard First Aid Card. Anyone wishing to register may phone the fire station, 659-2021, or drop by the station in person. The beginner's class will be followed by an Advanced Course for both men and women. There is no charge for the course other than the purchase of the 75¢ first aid book.

Art students exhibit at AFA Gallery

A showing of the work of Monterey Peninsula College art students, both day and evening classes, will open Saturday, May 28, to remain on view through Thursday, June 2, at the American Federation of Arts Gallery, Carmel. The Gallery is located on Lincoln Street near Ocean Avenue.

The exhibition will include paintings, drawings, designs, sculpture and ceramics selected by all members of the MPC art department

Joseph Hysong is chairman of the art department, assisted by instructors Robert Nelson, Richard Bibler, Chester Smith and Alex Gonzales, who is in charge of arrangements for the show.

Crew of eight men study and work at lonely U.S. scientific outpost in Antarctic

By VERNE PECKHAM

It's March now. We are beginning to feel the first signs of winter. Snow is staying on the ground a little longer, the fresh water pools freeze over in the evenings, and many of the summer residents have begun to leave.

Only a few penguins are on the little islet across the channel from the base; they are the late moulters. The rest of the few thousand that were there have begun their swim to the north and the ends of the ice pack, where they will be spending the winter feeding.

The leopard seals, which feed on the penguins, have remained, and will probably be feeding on the stranglers. These reptile-looking seals sleep on the drifting ice flows; spotted black cigars on ice blue rafts.

BEGGING BIRDS

But while the penguins, the skuas, the gulls, the terns and the petrils all leave for the winter, another group of animals returns to take their place. The dove-like sheath bill will be around the camp, begging food similar to the park pigeon.

A herd of the gigantic sea

elephants have also come here, to breed. Their rookery is about a half a mile from our houses.

Occasionally, large flights of cormorants wind their way through the islets in front of our houses. They stay low to the water, flying in long lines, follow the leader fashion, keeping out of winds way. When the winds get strong, the cormorants' white-tuxedo-like-groups can be seen on the islands, standing around with out much to do, until the winds die down.

Today, it has been windy, and the warm airs which come in with the wind have melted all of the snow that has been accumulating since Saturday.

EIGHT MEN

Palmer Station is a small facility which is designed to house five scientists, and four navy support personnel. This year there are only four scientists and four navy personnel. This is fine with me, since it allows me to have a bedroom by myself.

The base is located about 700 miles due south of Cape Horn on the tip of South America. It is on Anvers Island, which is over 90% covered with ice, and is about the size and the shape of the state of Rhode Island. Anvers Island is about 25 miles off the western coast of the Antarctic Peninsula, a narrow finger of Antarctica that juts toward South America.

This is the only U.S. station in this area of the Antarctic. There are many other nations here though. The British, the Chileans, and the Argentians are here also. Often during the summer we have visitors from other nations, who park their boats in Arthur Harbor, and row in to the station.

AMERICAN HUNTER

This base was called Palmer Station in honor of Nathanial Palmer who was an American seal hunter who hunted in this area in the 1820's. He worked this area in a small (40 foot) sailing cutter. And when the great Russian expedition came to this area, Palmer met them and showed them how to get in the area of the peninsula called the Palmer Archipelago.

During the summer, we have been getting our drinking and domestic water from a small stream which flowed past the laboratory. But, when the winter freezes come, the base mechanic will have to take his tractor to the glacier which is behind the base and pick up snow and melt it. Right now we are a little short of water, because the freeze came, and the stream dried up, but not enough snow has fallen for him to collect much with the tractor.

There is only the solid ice left from our recent rains, and that is too hard for the tractor to cut through. So right now, our showers are limited and we have to be a little sparing of our water until we either get some more rain, or it starts to snow heavy. Apparently, the first permanent snow won't start to stick to the ground until around the first of April.

TWO MOTOR BOATS

There is a small boat ramp here, and we have two 14-foot outboard motor boats. The motors are a little small for the boats, being only 5 horse, but we are able to take trips for quite some distance from the station in the boats.

Much of my work is done on the lush islands which are just off shore from us. And I enjoy the chance to get away from the station. Outisde of the harbor there is often a bit of surf running, and it is quite exciting to maneuver the small boat between the three-story high bergs, and in the inlets of the little islands.

Usually I meet some of the larger forms of life when I am out in the boat. Large seals are common, and often come up to the boat and look in, and on occasion I have been fairly close to whales.

The islands I go to have lush moss growth; and I always get the impression that I am walking into a Japanese Zen garden, when I go through the lichen and moss covered valleys. There are many fault lines in the rocks, and these have created steep and high valley walls, more like narrow canyons. On these walls, away from the driving force of the wind, are the extremely lush plant growths.

When the wind blows, many of the birds ride the eddying currents around the canyons, seemingly for the fun of it. Giant birds like the giant petril, nearly as large as the wandering albatros with a wing spread of over five feet are always seen at these times, making a great circle of flight, to repeat it again and again, like skiiers going up and down hills, or like surfers repeating their wild rides for hours at a time.

Verne Peckham, son-in-law of Marge and Lou Gardner, left in November for a year's assignment, in the Antarctic. Verne is attached to a small expedition studying entomology at Palmer Station.

Sandra, Verne's wife, is waiting out the year, teaching English in Santiago, Chile.

At the close of his assignment Verne expects to continue graduate work toward his doctorate. A scholarship at University of Hawaii is included in the completion of his year's research.

Students prove mettle during fire

Tularcitos school students had a chance to put fire-drill practice into genuine action last Wednesday – and they came through with level-headed maturity.

A grass fire broke out during the noon hour, very close to a large gas tank.

What could have been grim turned into a calm, cool demonstration of the value of previous drills. Not to mention the capable leadership of teachers and Principal William Mallek and the cool-headed response of the children.

"If their parents could have seen how they behaved, they would have been proud of them," commented Mrs. Les Golden, who is in charge of the playground during noon hour.

"There could have been hysteria in a situation like that, but everybody did what they were supposed to do, without voices being raised. The fire was put out with fire extinguishers before the fire department arrived."

Father's Day

CV Lions Club barbecue

The third annual barbecue sponsored by the Carmel Valley Lions Club will be held on June 19, ather's Day at the Trail and Saddle Club grounds.

Steak, salad and refreshments will be served at the picnic which will be from 1 to 5 p.m.

The barbecue is open to the general public with tickets for adults priced at $2.50 and children's tickets at $1. The fare for youngsters, however, is hamburger, not steak.

A feature this year is a variety of games or grownups and children and there will be a special booth for the youngsters sponsored by the CV Lionettes, auxiliary of the club.

Tickets are available from Lions Club members.

The Valley at LARGE

Comings and goings of people you know...

By GINNIE DREW

The birthday party given by owner Jeanne Klech celebrating one year of being a Pampered Hamper was a magnificent affair. Guests who received invitations to the champagne party arrived to find the activities in progress next door in the large unoccupied adjacent space of the Talbott building.

The barren surroundings were almost made unrecognizable by Jeanne's terrific decorations. Huge colorful bath towels made the background for casual fashions, "skinnie Minnies" designed by Dru Dunn. Fabulous gigantic candle bearing chandeliers were provided as additional atmosphere by Dru, who lives here in the Valley on Lower Circle.

The Mariachis completed the party atmosphere with great Mexican music.

Arriving late from "The Great Horse Race" between Dr. Ted Stotler and Dr. Jim Neibel, Ann and Gene Baker in old English riding attire made a smashing British couple. The Jack Swansons and Earle Wilsey's had attended the same party in town and arrived in costume, Earle being a dashing moutachioed Mexican.

About 250 guests enjoyed the birthday celebration, among them former Valley residents Donna and Dallas Pack who were houseguests of Bob and Ruth Angell. A few others seen among the crowd were Barbara and George Corrigan, Kay Witter and Ruth Thomsen, on her first party outing after her long bout of recuperating from a broken hip. Enjoying the music and estivities were Mmes. and Mssrs. Maury Nessel, Mark Field, Bill Walker, Mike Antoncich, Bob Heaviside, Don Swiess, Jim Smith, Salih Mehdy, Mrs. Harwell Dyer, Mrs. A.O. Bennett, Mrs. Mary Jane Wolters, and many many others.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Verga just returned from a four day stay at the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas. Reason for the trip?... celebration of their 41st wedding anniversary. According to Ceal they had a marvelous time and took in many of the shows.

Everyone on the Community Center Board spent Saturday evening thinking positively... think SUN, so that Sunday came around with a beautiful day for the Festival of the Grape. We understand that Pat Eyres even did a sun dance which was probably responsible for the good weather. At any rate, the benefit for the center was a fabulous success with 300 persons gathering on the lawn of Rancho del Monte to taste wine, nibble cheese, and listen to the Mariachis, who were hired on the spur of the moment the night before by Joanne Sears, Joan Bennett, Win Deadrich and Dolores Williams as their contribution to the event.

Vieing for honors with big hats were Carol Arana and Kitty Bayliss, with their husbands steering them out of each others way. Each table was heavily populated by devotees of a particular wine...and models from Joanne's, Grace Maher's and the Pampered Hamper had trouble getting through the crowds.

Seen sipping were Mmes. and Mssrs. John Rocciolo, Larry Cummings, George Glendenning, Ollie White, Rudi Marzi, Les Hicks, Louis Moore, Hal Averyt, Jack Lundin, Rudy Alt, Bob Sherry, Bill Ricker and Rex Pryer. Others enjoying the wine and weather were Morden Buck, Jim Large, Marge Gardner, Sallie Witter and Mmes. and Mssrs. Frank Lloyd, Ballard White, David Rudolph, Tom Graff, Ken White and George Gray.
